CLASS PROPHECY

Zing! What was that? Run for cover! It is a falling star--no, wait! It is stopping. As the beautiful colors of charcoal grey and pink showed through the clouds, the meteor opened to reveal twenty-one white carnations. It is the future of the Class of 1956.

After spending more time in Sycamore than the Mayor did, Ray Weininger relieved the Mayor of his duties. Mayor Weininger has just passed a new curfew law--"Only girls between the ages of sixteen and twenty-one allowed on the streets after 10 o'clock.

Jimmy Morehart is an announcer over station STINK. He can be heard every evening at 6:30 urging you to buy the new odorless sandwich spread made of limburger cheese and onions.

Cloyce Gilliland is teaching highly scientific methods of farming to the students of Gilliland University which he established in Scutch.

Colette Kisseberth is leading a group of man-hungry wolfesses into the bushiest part of Africa.

Joyce Staib has become the world's greatest debater. Her most appreciative audience is her husband who is an admiral in the U. S. Navy.

Donna Jean Sibert is the operator of a famous dancing school. The only real prerequistite for enrolling is that you be of the opposite sex.

Donna Lou Wentz is now Dean of a Men's College in Berwick, where she is working toward her "Mrs." Degree.

Lois Burks is a famous woman doctor and has discovered a cure for amnesia.

Lester Arbogast has a ranch out West. As a bachelor he has prospered well. He said he would rather tame a wild bronco any day than a stubborn woman.

Harold Traxler has become famous as a judge for bathing beauty contests. It usually takes him days to pick a winner.

Dick Ludwig, a great painter, left South America recently, as he said the scenery kept him from his work.

Bill Bland and his wife have just retired and are living alone. They no longer have their ducklings.

Cora Laura Wagner is now manager of a New York Fashion Firm after starting as a model.

Maxine Walter is married to a wealthy playboy and at present is living on the French Rivera.

Janet Beaschler started out as a private secretary for a large firm and is now manager. Some of the office boys are begining to like lady executives.

Ruth Seifert is a world-famous chemist. Her latest analysis reveals that she has discovered a cure for "R-B-itis."

James Racheter and his wife are residing in the McCutchenville community, and have five sons. Just right for a basketball team.

Keith Hossler runs a very prosperous farm. He divides his time between women and farming. If the women interfere with farming, he quits---farming.

Gene Hohman is running a marriage bureau in the Middle West. He has no trouble getting the girls, but the boys have run out on him. He has just finished a prison sentence for bigamy.

Deanna Webster has become a very noted TV artist. She was awarded just recently a plaque for best TV actress of the year.

Ray Mullholand is living on a sugar plantation in Hawaii. He says there is plenty of "sugar" there.
